

WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

The privacy of your personal information is of the utmost importance to Harsco Minerals International, a division of Harsco Corporation ("Harsco", "we", "us" or "our", as appropriate). This Privacy Policy covers the information that we collect about you or that you provide to us online through our website located at: www.harscomineraux.ca or www.harscomineraux.com. By visiting our website, you agree to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Privacy Policy.

COLLECTION AND USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Information you provide: We may collect your personal information such as your name, contact information and e-mail address when you contact us requesting more information about Harsco, our products and services or when you make an inquiry through our website. We will only use this information to contact you in order to answer your questions and requests or to provide you with the information which you have requested.

Technical information: When you visit our website, we may collect, using electronic means, technical information that does not by itself identify a specific individual. This information (sometimes referred to as "non-personally identifiable information") may include the IP address of your computer and which browser you used to view our site. This technical data is aggregated and used to measure and improve the effectiveness of our website. We do not attempt to combine this technical data with the personal information we collect on our website.

SHARING OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Unless we have your express consent, we will not sell, rent, share or trade your personal information to any third party, except to internal service providers that we use to facilitate or outsource one or more aspects of the operation of our website. These internal service providers are subject to confidentiality agreements with us and other legal restrictions that prohibit their use of the information we provide them for any purpose other than to facilitate the specific outsourced related operation, unless you have explicitly agreed or given your prior permission to them for additional uses. We may transfer your personal information to a third party in the context of a business transaction such as a sale of our assets, in which case, we will ensure that the third party has agreed to the terms of this Privacy Policy prior to the said transfer.

From time to time, we may be required to provide personal information in response to a valid court order, subpoena, government investigation, or as otherwise required by law. We also reserve the right to report to law enforcement agencies any activities that we, in good faith, believe to be unlawful. We may release certain personal information when we believe that such release is reasonably necessary to protect the rights, property, and safety of others and ourselves.

SECURITY OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

We will use reasonable security measures to protect your personal information against unauthorized access. Please be careful whenever sending personal information to Harsco via e-mail. E-mail is generally not a secure means of transferring information. We therefore cannot guarantee that this information will not be lost or used in a fraudulent manner and we encourage the use of e-mail encryption to communicate with us.

GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

The laws of the Province of Quebec shall apply to the interpretation of this Privacy Policy notwithstanding any conflict of law provisions. All proceedings relating to this website or to this Privacy Policy shall be brought before the courts of the Province of Quebec.

CHANGE IN PRIVACY POLICY

If there is any material change in our Privacy Policy, the revised statement will be posted on this website. Regardless of any changes we make to our Privacy Policy, we will only use your personal information in accordance with the version of the Privacy Policy in place at the time you provided your information, unless you later give your express consent for us to do otherwise.

CONTACT FOR QUESTIONS OR CONCERNS

If you have questions or concerns regarding this Privacy Policy, or if you wish to review, edit your personal information or request that we delete personally identifiable information stored in the databases we actively use, please contact: info@harscominerals.com

Unless restricted by law, we will take all reasonable steps to functionally delete your information from our database(s) upon request, although we may keep a copy for archival purposes for as long as necessary in our opinion. We will respond to your request to access, update or delete your information within thirty (30) business days. Before we are able to provide you with any information, correct any inaccuracies or delete any information, however, we may ask you to verify your identity and to provide other details (in a secure manner) to help us to respond to your request.

This Privacy Policy was last updated on April 21, 2011.

Please note that both the English and French versions of Harsco's Privacy Policy have equal legal value.
